Dear Colleagues:

One of the responses to an earlier post concerning the new graduate programs in HRM archaeology at Simon Fraser University lamented the high costs of our programs. Even though I’m not convinced our costs are out of line with comparable training opportunities, we took the issue to the SFU administration. As result, subject to approval by SFU’s Board of Governors, the Tuition for the HRM Master’s is $26,000 and covers enrollment in:

- The two required fall term courses (ARCH 531 and 541),
- The two required spring term courses (ARCH 551 and 561), and
- The thesis preparation course (ARCH 571) for three terms following the two terms of coursework.

HRM Master’s tuition is paid to register for five consecutive courses: $5,200 per term.

Tuition for the HRM Certificate is paid to register for two consecutive terms: $6,850 per term. HRM Certificate students must complete program requirements in five consecutive
We listened! New lower tuition rates for SFU HRM Master's and Certificate Programs

Thank you,
John

welch@sfu.ca

Professor and Director of the Professional Master's Program in Heritage Resource Management
Department of Archaeology and School of Resource and Environmental Management
Simon Fraser University

Copyright © 2017 Heritage Resource Management Graduate Program, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you signed up for the SFU HRM mailing list.

Our mailing address is:
Heritage Resource Management Graduate Program
Simon Fraser University
8888 University Drive
Burnaby, B.C. V5A 1S6
Canada

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list