<td>Under the Reading Tree currently supports five community libraries in Uganda. Each of these projects was initiated by a local individual or group who saw the need for a library to support children and adults in their community. Each library is managed locally, UTRT assists by contributing librarian salaries and annual book grants. There are volunteer programs both in Uganda and in Canada. Volunteers in Uganda will be matched with an appropriate library, based on their interest and our partner’s needs. Volunteers will receive airport pickup and room and board at their host site for $300.00 a month. Volunteers will pay their airfare and any additional expenses associated with in-country travel. Volunteers in Canada can get involved by sharing our blog with their fabulous literacy-conscious friends and family, joining our Ottawa Fundraising Committee and help us write grants and organize exciting events, inviting a board member to book club meeting in Vancouver,</td>
