   a) A new website of the Dean of Graduate Studies Office was up, where events related to graduate studies and campus would be posted. The associate dean of graduate studies has the responsibility of overseeing and keeping the website current.
   b) The Chair held a productive meeting regarding graduate on-line application.
c) The Chair attended a Canadian Association of Graduate Schools annual conference in Newfoundland, which had quality speakers with ideas on how to become better administrators and graduate students. Next year the conference would be held in Toronto, subsequent year in Quebec, and 2008 the conference would be hosted by University of Alberta.

5. Proposed survey of graduate courses (GS 2004.29)
The Graduate Issues Officer of the Student Society presented recommendations on the issue of lack of graduate courses. After a lengthy discussion, committee members concluded that a survey would be useful to identify problems for piggy-back courses, rather than assuming that the reasons were related to workload, resources, or driven by undergraduate courses. The Chair agreed to work with student reps in putting together a survey for the committee’s consideration.

6. Proposed Cohort Special Arrangements – M.Sc. in Health Sciences (GS 2004.30)
Guests, Drs. A. Davison and D. MacLean, were invited to meet with the committee at 3:00 p.m. It was noted that the cohort program might differ from the program which was undergoing evaluation process. Various issues were brought up and discussed:

a) Number of faculty being hired and yet to be hired: 7 and 2 CRC chairs
b) Associate faculty appointments
c) Number of courses being proposed prior to faculty hiring
d) Thesis and practicum options
e) Number of students expected for the 1st cohort: 10-20 between the thesis and practicum streams
f) Demands – few universities in the world offer such programs: applicants waiting
g) Cohort special arrangements - time limit for running the program
h) Expectation of students’ completion time
i) Funding – teaching assistantships, research assistantships, and fellowships
j) Space and facilities
k) University’s commitment of resources

It was moved and seconded that the cohort program be approved, pending acceptable course proposals, and forwarded to Senate for information.
(C. Dean/W. Parkhouse)

Motion carried

7. Faculty of Applied Sciences, School of Kinesiology: M.Sc. program (GS 2004.31)
