Educational Assistant/Self-regulation Aide for 8 year old girl

Our family is looking for an Educational Assistant/Self-regulation Aide to work with our 8 year old daughter with ASD at our home in Burnaby (2 hrs/day, two days a week any day except Tuesdays, $25/hr). She is bright and highly verbal but has some social-emotional and learning challenges. The goals you will be working on will be a mixture of social-emotional and curricular. Ongoing training and support will be provided by our Consultant, who works on a relationship and neuroscience-based and self-regulation focused model (see www.vahiconsulting.com) and curriculum support and resources will be provided by EBUS distance learning school, where she is enrolled. We are looking for someone who is able to think independently and scientifically, wants to learn continuously, and is playful and creative. If you are studying Education, Psychology, or Neuroscience this job would be great experience for you (formal training as an EA or BI is not required, nor preferred!).
