Indicate the grade level(s) you are applying to teach, in order of preference. *

You do not need to have a second choice. For example, if you are only interested in elementary teaching, chose that for your first choice and leave the second-choice blank.

If you chose "secondary" for either your first or second teaching level choice, please indicate up to two subject areas for which you would like to be considered.

Secondary teachers must have a major in a teachable subject or a minor in two teachable subjects. Make certain you have enough courses to make a major or minor in each subject you wish to teach. If you have majors and/or minors in more than two subjects, choose those you most wish to teach or for which you have the strongest academic preparation. We will read your transcript(s) in their entirety and note other majors or minors. Twenty different undergraduate majors are acceptable for teaching social studies, including majors in fields such as history, economics, first nations studies, sociology, etc. (full list available in the Social Studies Requirements portion of the PDP website.) If you wish to teach Theatre, Dance, Computing Science, or Physical Education, you must also have a second teachable subject, even if you have majored in this field.

Would you like to be considered for the Indigenous Perspectives Teacher Education (IPTEM) Module? *

In the IPTEM module, students explore Aboriginal knowledge, learning principles, and issues in education and blend these understandings into educational practice. See the PDP Website for more details. If you chose to be considered for this module, you must submit a letter of intent explaining your interest and suitability as part of your application.
