

FACULTY OF ENVIRONMENT
SESSIONAL APPOINTMENT IN ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE
Fall 2017

EVSC 100-3 Introduction to Environmental Science
Campus: Surrey
Friday, 12:30-2:20

Course Description: An introductory level Environmental Science lecture series and the first year entry into the Environmental Science major program. This course will introduce the importance of science in Environmental Science. It is an important foundation course for EVSC majors and provides context for the subsequent three years of the four year program. The course will include lectures as well as guest speakers and discussions on key environmental issues now facing our planet. Topics for discussion include; climate change, loss of biodiversity, water scarcity, and contaminants. A key learning objective is to provide students with the grounding needed to appreciate why study of a broad science core is essential.

The successful candidate is expected to meet with the Director of the Environmental Science Program two weeks prior to the beginning of the course to articulate course material between the 2 campuses.

Minimum Qualifications: Master’s degree in Environmental Science or related discipline.

Recommended Qualifications: Master’s degree or PhD in Environmental science with a minimum of 4 months teaching experience at the post-secondary level.

Letter of application, curriculum vitae and names and contact information for three references should be sent to:
