Join SFU’s community of donors!

Many faculty, staff and retirees donate generously every year through the University’s employee giving program, GiVE SFU.

Currently, SFU can only provide donor-funded scholarships to 30% of eligible students who apply. You can help change this.

GiVE SFU is an important way to give more students the best chance to succeed. With the high cost of living in Vancouver, many struggle to afford an education. Donations are welcome year round and you may designate your gift to support students in financial need or a program or project in your faculty.

Payroll giving: The easiest way to give is through payroll deductions, which allows you to conveniently spread your generosity throughout the year. You can select an amount that’s manageable for you and you can modify your contribution at any time.

Welcome to SFU!

For more information, please contact:
Rebekah Moen, Director, Annual Giving
rebekah_moen@sfu.ca | 778.782.5307
give.sfu.ca

“I’m deeply grateful to SFU’s donors. They’ve made me feel like someone cares about me...that I deserve to learn, grow, follow my dreams and pursue my passion.”

- Shanti, 4th year Criminology

“I have a lot to be grateful to SFU for...myself, my brother, sister, two daughters and nieces have studied here.

One of my daughters is visually impaired, and the support the university has given her is phenomenal. She plans to be a counsellor and teacher of kids with disabilities. And she couldn’t have done it without SFU.”

- Manjeet Gill, SFU donor and Manager, School of Communication