Faculty of Environment

For Graduate Students

The André Gerolymatos Graduate Endowment in Environmental Security provides support for graduate students in the Faculty of Environment who aim to improve aspects of environmental and resource security such as food security (including fisheries), water security, biodiversity or energy security.

The Canadian Pacific/Teck Resources Endowment supports graduate students in the Faculty of Environment who are pursuing or intend to pursue research that focuses on finding innovative solutions or approaches to environmental challenges and sustainability.

The Coastal Zone Canada (BC) Association Graduate Scholarship in the Faculty of Environment provides financial support to graduate students in the Faculty of Environment whose research focuses on the science and/or management of human activities, natural environments, physical processes and living and non-living resources within the coastal zone of British Columbia.

The Dean’s 10th Anniversary Graduate Award in the Faculty of Environment was established in 2019 by Dean, Ingrid Leman Stefanovic, in celebration of the Faculty of Environment’s 10th Anniversary (2009 to 2019). It provides support for graduate students in the Faculty of Environment.

The Jim Fulton Memorial Endowment provides a bursary for a graduate student currently enrolled in a masters or doctoral program in the Faculty of Environment.

The Patricia Gallaugher Award in Coastal Science Management provides funding for graduate students conducting community-engaged research that informs policy and/or influences marine or environmental conservation.

The Simons Foundation Graduate Awards in the Faculty of Environment provide support for graduate students enrolled full time in the Faculty of Environment. Preference is given to students conducting research in sustainable development (from local to global scales), environmental and water security, environmental science, and/or ethics and best practices.

The Wayne Goeson Graduate Memorial Award provides funding to graduate students in the Faculty of Environment or the Faculty of Science who are conducting research related to the ecology and conservation of fish and their aquatic habitats, with preference for focus on salmon or steelhead and freshwater ecosystems.

For Undergraduate Students

The Alix Vikki Patterson Bursary in the Faculty of Environment provides a bursary for Faculty of Environment students. Preference is given to football players in the Faculty of Environment.

The Janet Blanchet Bursary in the Faculty of Environment provides bursaries for students pursuing a Bachelor’s degree in the Faculty of Environment.
The Harvey and Dorothy Burt Bursary Endowment Fund provides a bursary for students in the areas of conservation or environmental protection. Preference is given to Canadian undergraduate students in their third or fourth year of studies.

Archaeology Department

For Graduate Students

The Alexia Sepideh Kiaii Memorial Endowment supports a graduate student in Archaeology.

The Dr. Jack Nance Memorial Graduate Scholarship in supports a graduate student at Simon Fraser University who is pursuing a graduate degree in Archaeology.

The Dr. J.V. Christensen Graduate Scholarship provides support for a graduate student who is pursuing, or intends to pursue, a graduate degree in History or Archaeology.

The Roy L. Carlson Graduate Scholarship in Prehistoric British Columbia Archaeology provides support for a graduate student in Archaeology, whose research is on the prehistoric archaeology of B.C.

For Undergraduate Students

The Brian Williamson Memorial Endowment supports an undergraduate student majoring in Archaeology who intends to use the award to help defray travel costs to participate in field research.

The Ingrid Nystrom Archaeology Award is awarded to an undergraduate student majoring in Archaeology who will be using the award to further his/her studies in Archaeology or Physical Anthropology.

The Robin Mercer Memorial Bursary is for an undergraduate student majoring in Archaeology who intends to use the award to help defray travel costs to participate in field research in Archaeology or Physical Anthropology.

The Katie Young Memorial Scholarship provides support for an undergraduate student in Archaeology.

Geography Department

For Undergraduate Students

The Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) Endowment supports undergraduate students in the Certificate in Urban Studies.

The Geography Undergraduate Fieldwork Fund provides support for fieldwork within courses across all branches of geography. Funds from this endowment help cover the practical costs of any field activity with emphasis upon providing field experience for undergraduates enrolled in upper division Geography courses.

The Dr. Warren Gill Memorial Endowment is for a third-year undergraduate student majoring in Human Geography who demonstrates leadership and/or service within the University community or in representing Simon Fraser University to the community at large.
The Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Sommer Geography/Earth Sciences Endowment alternates each semester between undergraduate students majoring in Geography and students majoring in Earth Sciences. It is for a third-year undergraduate student.

The Owen Hertzman Memorial Scholarship is for a third- or fourth-year student majoring in a Physical Geography stream.

The Polly Evenden Bursary in geography education provides financial assistance to a student who has completed a bachelor’s degree from SFU with a major in Geography, is entering the Professional Development Program in the Faculty of Education and intends to teach Geography upon completion of the program.

For Graduate Students

The Geography Graduate Entrance Scholarship provides support for a student entering an M.A. or PhD program in Geography.

Resource and Environmental Management Program

For Graduate Students

The Chad Day Graduate Endowment provides financial support for a graduate student in the School of Resource and Environmental Management, specializing in environmental and resource management in BC.

The Paul Higgins Resource and Environmental Management Graduate Award provides financial support for graduate students in the School of Resource and Environmental Management with a preference for students focusing on fisheries management.

The VanCity Credit Union Scholarship Endowment Fund provides financial support for a student enrolled in the Resource and Environmental Management program who is researching environmental and resource management problems in BC.

The Wolfgang Haider Memorial Graduate Award provides financial support to graduate students in the Resource and Environmental Management Program who are conducting research related to human dimensions of natural resource use. Preference is given to candidates working in developing country contexts.

Environmental Science Program

For Graduate Students

The John Halliday McCrae Graduate Scholarship in Ecological Restoration Endowment provides financial support to graduate students in the Master of Science in Ecological Restoration program.

For Undergraduate Students

The Beverley Raymond Memorial Scholarship in Biological Sciences and Environmental Science provides support for undergraduate students in Biological Sciences or Environmental Science.
The Blue Planet Links Foundation Bursary provides support for undergraduate students majoring in Environmental Science. Preference is given to students with a declared concentration in water science or a declared Sustainable Business joint major.

The Enid Harris Scholarship in Environmental Science provides scholarships for third- or fourth-year undergraduate students in the Environmental Science Program.

The Ron MacLeod Environmental Science Endowment provides scholarships to third- or fourth-year undergraduate students in the Environmental Science Program.