The Aboriginal Pre-Health Bridging Program Study Grants

Funded from a portion of the Merck Canada Aboriginal Youth in Health Sciences Fund, the Aboriginal Pre-Health Bridging Program Study Grants were established in 2013 to support students facing financial barriers to enter and/or continue their studies in the Aboriginal Pre-Health Program at SFU. Eight grants of $3,000 each (totaling $24,000) will be granted over two years. The funds will be administered by the Community Education Program, Lifelong Learning.

Eligibility

These grants will be open to students who are currently registered in the Aboriginal Pre-Health Program and who meet the following eligibility criteria:

- Have been accepted into the Aboriginal Pre-Health program based on a very strong overall application;
- Have demonstrated financial need; and
- Are able to express a strong commitment to the program.

Adjudication

Nominations will be provided by the Director, Community Education Program Continuing Studies, Lifelong Learning SFU.

Applications

Applications should be sent electronically to the Director, Community Education Program, Lifelong Learning, judy_smith@sfu.ca

The application should include the following:

- Aboriginal Pre-Health program application package; and,
- Study Grant Application that includes Financial Statement and Statement of Purpose.

Deadline: TBD