Canadian women have a complex, fascinating, and revealing history. That history shapes our present. This course examines how Canadian women lived, how they felt about their lives, and how others saw them in the period from the 17th century to 1920.

Required Texts

Strong-Boag, Veronica and Anita Clair Fellman, eds., Rethinking Canada: The Promise of Women's History (Copp, Clark, Pitman, 1986).

Primary Document package, available for xeroxing from instructor or from Reserves in the Library.

Course Requirements:

Evaluation: Tutorial Participation: 15%
Assessments of primary documents: 50%
Short Essay: 15%
Final Exam: 20%

Note: This Course is also accepted as a credit in History.

Prerequisites: None.