In this course the cultural and class background of Indo-Canadian women is examined and the kinds of changes they have experienced and are experiencing in their lives are delineated. The nature of their struggles against sexism, racism/ethnocentrism and classism are discussed and the types of adaptation strategies they have negotiated will be elaborated. In each case generational differences will be identified.

REQUIRED READING:

Also several articles on reserve in the Library.

RECOMMENDED READING:

ASSIGNMENTS:

Written Assignment (about 2000 words) (1) 10%
Term Test 20%
Class Presentation 10%
Written Assignment (2) 10%
(Summary of class presentation - about 2000 words)
Class Presentation 10%
Class Participation 10%
Final Examination (take home) 30%

DESIGNATED CREDIT:

Students may apply to the Liberal Arts Certificate Program to obtain 3 upper division credits toward a Certificate in Liberal Arts.