WS 101-3: Introduction to Women’s Issues in Canada
Barbara Blakely

An interdisciplinary study of current issues related to women’s experiences in Canada. The focus will be on women’s interaction with social structures and public policy and how these differ for different women’s circumstances.

Prerequisite:
Students who have taken WS 100 may not take WS 101 for further credit.

Please note: This course can be applied toward the Certificate in Liberal Studies.

Required texts:

Course requirements and Grading Structure:
Study Questions – 1 set 10% of final grade
Research & Reflection – 2 parts 50% of final grade
  - Interview
  - Theoretical Reflection – Essay format
Final Exam – take home 40% of final grade

Supplementary Fees:
Course Materials and Service Fee $30
Deposit for Additional Materials $20