Office hours: TBD

Course Description:
Development has a human face and this face is gendered. Thus, this course examines how development is gendered and creates differential impacts, meanings and processes for women and men. Using an interdisciplinary approach, the course will address, among others, the following key questions in development:

a. How do women participate in development processes and practices similarly to and differently from men?
b. What does development mean to women and men in Asia, Africa and Latin America?
c. How are women and men situated in socio-economic-political structure that eventually affect their contribution and experience in development?
d. What are some of the inherent contradictions, such as, dilemmas and resistance, in the gendered process of development?
