WS 101-3: Introduction to Women’s Issues in Canada  (Distance Education)

An interdisciplinary study of current issues related to women’s experiences in Canada. The focus will be on women’s interactions with social structures and public policy and how these differ for different women’s circumstances.

Required texts:

Course requirements and Grading Structure:
Study Questions – 1 set – 10% of final grade
Research and Reflection – 2 parts – 50% of final grade
  Part 1: Interview
  Part 2: Theoretical Reflection – essay format
Final Exam – take home – 40%

Prerequisites: Students who have taken WS 100 may not take WS 101 for further credit.

PLEASE NOTE: This course can be applied towards the Certificate in Liberal Arts.

SUPPLEMENTARY FEES
Course materials and service fee $30
Deposit for additional materials $25

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT THE CENTRE FOR DISTANCE EDUCATION.

Section C100 courses are by distance education, which are available to all students. Course outlines noting the requirements (e.g. assignments, exams, equipment and computer requirements) are available at the Centre for Distance Education, or by calling 604-291-3524, 1-800-663-1411 (toll free in BC) or at www.sfu.ca/cde