V. Research Participation Credit
You are asked submit a written response about the assigned articles for 7 of the weeks (i.e., you should skip the reading which your group presents; a total of 7% of the grade). You can skip up to 2 responses without any penalty by participating in a sanctioned research project within the Department of Linguistics. To do this, you can receive a maximum of 4 credits (1 credit = a 0.5% boost to the written responses grade). Participation in 1 research session = 1 credits, and these credits can only replace low marks or missed submissions (i.e., 7% is the max for this portion of the grade).

In the event that you do not qualify for RPS credits, attend a Linguistics or Psychology or CogSci talk, and write a ½ page summary (1 summary = 2 credits). After the last day of class, email the instructor these using Canvas.
