Indigenous Student Cultural House

A sense of community, the concept of place and connection to place, will form the basis of this Indigenous Living Community through the spirit of mutual engagement, respect, trust and ceremony. This is an enriching, intercultural living environment for Indigenous students across Turtle Island. Residents have opportunities to connect with the Coast Salish people by participating in traditional feasts, tea making, plant walks and many more cultural activities. There are also many ways that you can volunteer for events on campus.

- 22 rooms for Indigenous Students
- Fall semester traditional cleanse
- Connect with other Indigenous Students
- Participate in cultural workshops
- Develop leadership and peer mentorship skills

Your community.  Your journey.
