University College Dublin

Country: Ireland
Faculty/Major: Quinn School of Business

Preparation for Exchange

Travel and Transportation
- The public transportation system is very easy to use
- There are 3 different public transportation systems in Dublin; which one you use depends on how far you’re travelling
- Download the Irish Bus app
- Travelling to other countries in Europe is very easy
- Ryan Air is a really cheap airline, but they don’t always fly into the main city of a country, so make sure you check that before booking flights with them

Packing
- Pack warm clothes, it gets very windy there
- Your shoes will get worn out because you will be walking everywhere
- Pack some of your favourite foods from home because they might not be available in Dublin

Financial Details
- You can use your Canadian credit card almost everywhere
- Some people open a bank account through the bank at UCD because they offer additional benefits
- The cost of living in Ireland is much higher
- The only thing that’s cheaper are phone plans (My3 is a good company to get your phone plan from)

During Exchange

Arrival and Orientation
- UCD has a lot of orientation activities the week prior to classes
- Within a month of arriving in Ireland you must register with Garda
- The wait at Garda can be very long and some people start lining up at 5am or earlier
- The first week of classes has Clubs Days where you can join different clubs
- To join a club there is usually a few of about 2 euro
- There is an International Students club who does day trips around Ireland at low costs

Accommodation and Living
- I lived in the Dublin 2 city center (not on campus)
- Any stores I needed were all located around my apartment
- Dunnes is a good grocery store (similar to Save on Foods or Safeway)
- Tesco is also good but more similar to Walmart
The Irish people are extremely friendly and always willing to help if you get lost or have questions

Academic Details
- Lectures are usually shorter than at SFU (2 hours a week on average)
- The final exams are not located on campus, but about a 15 minute bus ride from UCD
- The grading is different from SFU; it is not curved and the percentage to letter grade distribution is different
- Some lectures require attendance, but most don’t
