OCTOBER 11, 2017
CRAWFORD LAB KICK OFF EVENT

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Suzana Herculano-Houzel

“The Human Advantage: A New Understanding of How Our Brains Became Remarkable”

Associate Professor, Departments of Psychology and Biological Sciences, Vanderbilt University

15:30 – 17:00 – Big Data Hub Presentation Studio

The Crawford Lab is a new evolution-focused interdisciplinary research collective based at Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, BC, Canada. The group is named for pioneering evolutionary psychologist Dr. Charles Crawford, a professor emeritus of Simon Fraser University.

This kickoff is sponsored by Department of Biological Sciences, eBERG, the Crawford Lab, and the IRMACS Research Institute.

INVITED SPEAKERS

Dr. Jeffrey Joy, BC Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS
“PhyloDynamics: Evolutionary Epidemiology and Infectious Disease”

Dr. Michelle Kline, Assistant Professor, Department of Psychology, SFU
“The Evolution of Teaching”

Dr. Scott Pavey, CRC in Aquatic Molecular Ecology and Ecological Genomics, University of New Brunswick
“Genomics of Freshwater Eels Demonstrates Adaptive Genetic Differences in Panmictic Species”

Dr. Jennifer Sunday, Incoming Faculty, McGill University
“The Mechanics of Range Shifts in a Warming World”

WHERE AND WHEN

SSB 7172:
13:00 - 13:30 Scott Pavey
13:30 - 14:00 Jeffrey Joy
14:00 - 14:30 Michelle Kline
14:30 - 15:00 Jennifer Sunday

BIG DATA HUB ATRIUM:
15:00 - 15:30 Coffee Break

BIG DATA HUB PRESENTATION STUDIO:
15:30 - 17:00 Keynote Speaker