A short description of our course offerings can be found in SFU’s Academic Calendar, located at: http://www.sfu.ca/students/calendar/2019/summer/courses/engl.html. As a member of the SFU Faculty Association (SFUFA) and the Department of English team of faculty, the Lecturer will also be expected to participate in the life of the unit.

Qualifications:
- PhD in English.
- Three years of teaching experience in contemporary literature and culture as documented in a current CV and example course outline.
- Knowledge of teaching methods relevant to contemporary literature and culture.
- Knowledge of relevant teaching methods.
- Experience supervising Teaching Assistants.

Documents Required:
- Cover letter and current CV.
- A list of past courses taught at SFU and/or another University or College, and a supervisor’s evaluation of the applicant’s performance when teaching those courses.
- A sample of a detailed (week-by-week) course outline.
- Three current letters of reference, including at least one from a department/school/program for which courses have been taught, unless the applicant has recently taught for the SFU Department of English. The letters of reference should be sent separately, preferably by email, by the respective referees.

Applications will be reviewed starting June 15, 2019

Please address applications to the attention of: Dr. Paul Budra, Chair, Department of English, Simon Fraser University, 8888 University Dr., Burnaby, BC V5A 1S6. Materials can be sent electronically to: englsec@sfu.ca.

This is an entry-level term position. Only those holding or those eligible to be promoted to the rank will be considered.

The position is subject to availability of funding.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty_Openings/Collection_Notice.html
