IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

What are the admission requirements for high school or college/university transfer students?

There is no direct admission to Linguistics programs. You may have indicated “Intended Linguistics Major” on your SFU application.

Students must complete LING 220-3 Introduction to Linguistics (or its equivalent) with a minimum C+ grade and have a CGPA of at least 2.40. Students should meet with the Student Advisor for program approval.

Do I need to maintain a specific GPA to stay in a Linguistics program?

After a student has completed 60 units, a CGPA of at least 2.40 is required for continuance in the Major, Extended Minor, Certificate in the Linguistics of Speech Science programs.

What happens if I cannot maintain the minimum CGPA to stay in the program?

If your CGPA falls below 2.40 after completion of 60 units, the Student Advisor will notify you of your withdrawal from the program. In future registration periods, you will not be able to enroll in any upper division LING courses, which are entirely reserved for Linguistics program students, during the three week registration appointment date/time release period. You can re-declare into a Linguistics program once your CGPA is restored to 2.40.
