

FINANCIAL AWARDS

Following are some of the financial awards and assistance available which may be of interest to Criminology undergraduate students. For a complete list and/or further information, please check a current SFU Calendar or contact the Financial Aid and Awards Office.

Linda Brideau Memorial Scholarship

Established by the faculty, staff and students in the School of Criminology in memory of a former faculty member. An annual scholarship equal in value to the interest accrued is available to an undergraduate student who is majoring in Criminology. The award will be based on academic excellence and preference will be given to a student in the honors program who has completed at least two years of study at Simon Fraser University. Apply via the Simon Fraser University Private Scholarship Application Form, available in the Financial Aid and Awards Office. (A CGPA of 3.50 is required to apply for private scholarships.)

School of Criminology Alumni Scholarships

Scholarships will be granted on the basis of academic performance to students in the School of Criminology.

Connell Lightbody Endowment Fund

Full-time third year student planning to study law. Students need to provide a brief letter concerning their eligibility for this bursary. This bursary, established by the Connell Lightbody law firm, is in recognition of the outstanding contributions made by Dr. Arthur Fouks to both the legal community of Vancouver and the development of Simon Fraser University.

McCavour Family Bursary in Criminology

Undergraduate students in Criminology who are single parents. Preference will be given to applicants who are sons, daughters or legal dependants of members of the Firemen's Benefit Association of Vancouver, BC, however, where no such candidate is identified, the award may be disbursed to other eligible students. The bursary will be granted on the basis of demonstrated financial need and satisfactory academic performance.

ICBC/Brian Jones Memorial Bursary in Criminology

Granted on the basis of demonstrated financial need and satisfactory academic performance to undergraduate students in the School of Criminology.

Florence Godwin IODE Bursary in Criminology

To an undergraduate student majoring in Criminology, on the basis of demonstrated financial need and satisfactory academic performance. The recipient may be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

Criminology Award in Diversity & Public Safety

An award will be made available to an undergraduate student in Criminology, studying the interaction between visible minorities and traditional Canadian crime prevention programs and law enforcement. The Award will be granted by the Senate Undergraduate Awards Adjudication Committee, on the nomination of the Director of the School of Criminology.

Legal Studies for Aboriginal People – Department of Justice Canada

Bursary program designed to financially assist Métis and Non-Status Indian students of Canadian Citizenship who wish to pursue their studies in law. Applicants must have applied to a Canadian law school. Bursary is granted on the basis of demonstrated financial need and academic success. For information and application contact: Legal Studies for Aboriginal People Program, Department of Justice Canada, Programs Branch, 284 Wellington Street, EMB – 6th Floor, Ottawa ON K1A 0H8, Toll-Free: 1-888-606-5111, www.justice.gc.ca

Pacific Leaders Graduate Student Fellowship

Designed to attract top-quality researchers to the B.C. Public Service while producing research to address key issues facing British Columbia. Pacific Leaders Fellows will receive $20,000 per year for each year of graduate studies up to two years, with 20 Fellows chosen each year. Students must have completed or nearly completed a bachelor's degree and plan to continue full-time studies at a B.C. public university or university college, with at least 75 per cent of their school time to be spent in research and course work. Once students complete their graduate degrees, they must work one year for the B.C. Public Service for every year of graduate studies funded through the fellowship. www.pacificleaders.gov.bc.ca