

Carla Taunton is a PhD Candidate and a Teaching Fellow at Queen's University in the Department of Art. She is an alliance member of the Aboriginal Curatorial Collective. Her current research interests are indigenous performance art, contemporary indigenous visual culture, interventions and activism in the arts, as well as globalization and decolonization theories.