

Daniel McNeil is a Lecturer in Black and Minority studies at the University of Hull, Wilberforce Institute for the Study of Slavery and Emancipation, and HMP Full Sutton. His recent teaching and research has placed Canadian studies in a Black Atlantic context and his forthcoming book, Sex and Race in a Black Atlantic: Mulatto Devils and Multiracial Messiahs, is part of Routledge's African and Black diaspora series.