Introduction to Social Psychology, Industrial/Organizational Psychology, and Social Attitudes.

Research Activity

Current Research interests

Keyword(s)	Brief Description
1. Environmental sustainability	What encourages people to engage in pro-environmental behaviour, and in particular, behaviour intended to bring about pro-environmental social change?
2. Minority group coping	The psychological well-being consequences of perceiving the self or one's social group as the target of discrimination, and ways of coping with discrimination.
3. Inequality, Privilege, Disadvantage	Psychological responses to social inequality, with attention to the ideological and identity correlates of support for social inequality.
