NOTE: when you use a possessive pronoun in Greek youmust always include the article, definite or indefinite.

My friend = The friend my $o \phi(\lambda o \zeta \mu o v)$

A friend of mine = one friend my $\dot{\epsilon} v \alpha \varsigma \phi (\lambda \circ \varsigma \mu \circ \upsilon)$

Your son Our ally Their enemy Her daughter Its wall My France One daughter of mine One ally of mine One gift of mine

Accenting Note: If a word has the accent regularly on the third syllable from the end and a possessive pronoun appears after it, then the word gets a second accent on the final syllable o $\dot{\alpha}\nu\theta\rho\omega\pi\sigma\varsigma$

ο άνθρωπός μου ο φίλος ο φίλος μου

Idiom of the day την κάνουμε; Shall we? (hip, informal language)
