The Faculty of Health Sciences is posting the following TA for Marking position for HSCI 807 and 835 for the Fall Semester 2018. The posting closes on Friday, November 2, 2018 at 11:59 p.m.

Course Details:

HSCI 807 - Theorizing and Researching Health Inequities (BBY)
Instructor: Dr. Maya Gislason

HSCI 835 - Social Determinants of Health (BBY)
Instructor: Dr. Maya Gislason

General Requirement

- Sufficient knowledge in the discipline of the course to interpret the course material
- Teaching Assistants shall be competent in oral and written English

Additional Requirements

A bachelor’s or master’s degree in Health Sciences; demonstrated teaching ability as an instructor or teaching assistant in post-secondary health sciences courses preferred

OR

A background in health sciences including successful completion of graduate-level courses covering material on critical health theory, social determinants of health, social inequities in health and Indigenous determinants of health.

An understanding of a range of qualitative and quantitative methodologies is an asset.

The TA will be asked to mark material from two Masters level courses offered in the MPH program at SFU. The marking tasks will include providing in depth, written feedback to students on weekly short evaluative tasks, and marking term papers as well as course reflections and learning statements.

It is anticipated that the combined activities will total 70-80 hours of marking spread out over the rest of the 2018 Fall term.

To Apply

To apply please email Brad Mladenovic at bratislav_mladenovic@sfu.ca with the subject line “HSCI 807-835 TA Posting”. Please include your cover letter/CV, current transcript, and study/work permit (if applicable) as PDF attachments to your email.
The deadline is Friday, November 2, 2018 at 11:59 p.m.

Successful applicants will be notified by email. Because of short time lines, only successful applicants will be contacted.