Subject Proposals for Establishing
Graduate Studies Committees

Date February 23, 1966

The accompanying proposals are submitted to Senate for its consideration. Simon Fraser University has no specific graduate dean, graduate school or graduate faculty, and it is hoped that the functions normally included in a separate graduate administration can be adequately performed by the committees and sub-committee whose duties are outlined in the attached proposals. If this assumption is correct, the University will be able to evolve a successful graduate program without the creation of new administrative superstructure.
