S. Yandle and M.A. Lebowitz asked that their objection to the draft letter be recorded in the Minutes, on the grounds that the students' objection was not that the confidential document was released but that it was written in the first place and then accepted by Faculty Council.

B. Motion by J.W. Matthews which was not resolved due to adjournment.

Motion seconded by D.H. Berg.

After discussion the Motion was amended:

"that Senate deplores the action of Faculty Council in receiving academic evaluations of students submitted to Faculty Council by its Chairman, and recommends to Faculty Council a careful study and definition of its powers and duties, for the better ordering of its procedures in the future"

3. NEW BUSINESS

C. REPORT OF AD HOC COMMITTEE ON EXAMINATION AND GRADING PRACTICES
- S-21.

L. Kendall, Department of Psychology, joined the meeting and presented Paper S-21. The report was based on a questionnaire sent to all faculty, to which there had been limited response. After discussion it was suggested that the bar and scatter diagrams with a rewritten preamble be sent to Departments for comment, as a confidential document, or with Departmental names coded. It was agreed to commend the Committee and invite it to continue and extend this method of examination.

Moved by D.H. Sullivan, seconded by J. Waikley

"that the Ad Hoc Committee report presented to Senate be sent to Departments"

J. NEW COURSES IN ECONOMICS - S-41

Economics 830-5

"Analytical Economics. This course is concerned with the use of basic mathematical concepts which have found widespread application in economic theory and research in recent years. It will include calculus with applications in demand and production theory, matrix algebra with applications in input-output analysis of general equilibrium problems, and difference equations with applications in growth models. Students who have had a university-level course in calculus will not be required to take Economics 830-5"

R.A. Holmes, Department of Economics and Commerce, joined the meeting. The proposal that students who had taken a university-level course in calculus would not be required to take Economics 830-5 was questioned. It was stated that the intention was to exclude students who had had previous training in calculus from obtaining credit for 830-5. It was agreed to refer the paper back to the Economics and Commerce Department through the Dean of Arts for re-wording.

Moved by W. Vidaver, seconded by D.G. Tuck

"that Senate approve Economics 899-5 as follows:

"Economics 899-5 Readings in Economics. By permission of the Instructor and Head of the Department"

- 3 A. NOTICE OF MOTION, S. YANDLE: "THAT THE QUESTION OF THE CLOSED NATURE OF SENATE MEETINGS BE RE-OPENED" - S-19

Senate was reminded of its resolution passed in February 1967 "that Senate not be opened for one year at which time Senate consider the matter of openness of Senate". The Chairman ruled that a resolution to re-open discussion of a matter which had been tabled for a year was a procedural matter requiring a two-thirds majority.

Page 5, Item 3A, amend to read: "....a procedural matter requiring a two-thirds majority, and cited Robert's Rules of Order Article 31 '...When a question has been postponed to a certain time, it becomes an order of the day for that time and cannot be taken up before that time except by a reconsideration, or by suspending the rules for that purpose, which requires a two-thirds vote.', and Articles 48 and 68".

with students because of the number involved; they had been requested to report to Student Council and this reporting had been subjected to distortion. At the discussions in Senate in February 1967 it had been made clear that students in general were more interested in having open meetings than in having representatives in closed sessions.

The Chairman reminded the meeting that the question was a procedural matter of re-opening discussion on a matter which Senate had established would be re-opened in February 1968. M.A. Lebowitz challenged the ruling of the chair. The challenge was put to the vote and the chairman upheld.

arguing that since the motion of motion had been made in advance only a majority vote was required.

Senate then voted on whether the discussion of the closed nature of Senate meetings should be re-opened at this time.

3 D. UNDERGRADUATE GRADING SYSTEM - S-33

Moved by D.H. Sullivan, seconded by D.H. Berg

"that each Faculty be allowed to use its own grading system"

It was suggested that this proposal be referred to the Faculties for discussion and to Joint Faculty before coming to Senate as the idea of having a diversity of systems had not been discussed before. The Registrar was asked what problems this would create if approved, and pointed out that the main concern was that students should be treated in an equitable fashion. This proposal might lead to inequities, e.g. in assessing eligibility for scholarships. After some further discussion the Motion was withdrawn.

It was then moved by J.W. Matthews, seconded by D.H. Sullivan

"that Senate approve the addition of A- and C+ to the existing scale"

The Chairman proposed that the Motion be tabled until the next meeting of Senate, in the meantime the Dean of Arts being invited to prepare a paper on the reasons underlying his presentation in Paper S-33 and the Registrar being requested to prepare a paper on the present system and the conversion to grade point average. W. Vidaver asked that the Science Faculty be instructed to provide a discussion and argument of a 4 point system which was preferred by the majority of members of the Science Faculty, and D.H. Berg asked that the Dean of Science be requested to present arguments against including A- and C+ in the scale. J.F. Ellis asked that the Registrar's paper include advantages of staying on the present system.

The Chairman pointed out that the papers on this subject which had been discussed and brought to Senate between March and September, 1966, were available in all Departments.

The Motion was tabled until further information is available from the Deans and the Registrar.

E. ADMISSION TO HONORS PROGRAM - FACULTY OF ARTS - S-36

It was agreed that the Registrar would include this paper in the draft of the new Calendar, for consideration by Senate at that time.
