MOTION: "That Senate approve, as set forth in S.73-55,
the Minor in Elementary School Physical Education."

SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY

S.73-55

MEMORANDUM

To SENATE

From Senate Committee on Undergraduate Studies

Subject Minor in Elementary School
Physical Education

Date April 18, 1973

On the recommendation of the Faculty of Education, the Senate Committee on Undergraduate Studies has approved the attached minor program in Elementary School Physical Education, as set forth in SCUS 73-12, and forwards it to Senate for its consideration.

The submission contains the following information:

- (a) a description of the program; and
- (b) Calendar information.

It should be noted that this proposal is one of a number of minor programs, emanating from the Faculty of Education and envisaged in the reorganization of that Faculty undertaken in the Summer of 1971. The question of whether or not such a program constituted a new program and would therefore have to be submitted to the Academic Planning Committee before transmission to Senate was discussed in SCUS and referred to the Chairman of Senate. His ruling was that, since the submission of such minor programs had been envisaged in the reorganization of the Faculty and that this program constituted, with one exception which was designed principally as a supplement to an existing course, a rearrangement of existing courses to fulfil a specific purpose, it would not have to be submitted to the Academic Planning Committee but must be approved by Senate before it could go into effect. The Senate Committee on Undergraduate Studies therefore submits this proposal to Senate for its approval.

1. Title: Elementary School Physical Education Minor
2. Originator: Dr. Glenn Kirchner
3. Faculty: Education
4. Purpose: The Minor Program in Elementary School Physical Education (previously known as "Special Emphasis in Elementary School Physical Education" was initiated in 1966 as an experiment for teachers at Simon Fraser University. This program was designed to be one channel of special interest within the main stream of the Professional Development Program for elementary school teachers. Hence, our central purpose was, and still is, to prepare qualifying classroom teachers with an additional and special competence to teach physical education.
5. Prerequisites: There are no mandatory lower division courses for the Elementary School Physical Education Minor. However, it is strongly recommended that a prospective student for this program complete at least two of the following courses prior to enrolling in Education 401 and preferably during his lower levels:

Kinesiology	040-3	Contemporary Health Issues Seminar
	042-3	Man and Movement
	043-3	Exercise Management
	044-3	Esthetic Forms of Human Movement
	100-3	Introduction to Kinesiology
Psychology	105-3	Differential Psychology

6. Required Courses: The program has followed the three semester Professional Development Program for all students with the following modification. During Education 401 approximately twenty-four students are selected as candidates for Minor Program.¹ Selection is based upon the student's potential teaching ability and his special interest and competence in Physical Education. When these students return to campus for Education 402 they participate in the general sessions, curriculum seminars and workshops offered to all students. In addition, each "Minor in Physical Education" student is required to attend special seminars and workshops in elementary school Physical Education.

During Education 405 "Physical Education Minor" students are assigned to classroom teachers who have a special interest in Physical Education. Generally speaking, these students teach in a typical classroom and, in addition, are normally assigned six to ten Physical Education classes per week covering all age levels in the elementary school. It is during this in-school experience that the University specialists in Physical Education work very closely with the student and supervising teacher.

1. Note: There is only one intake of Elementary School Physical Education Minors. This occurs during the Fall Semester.

As an Education Minor requires 14 - 18 semester hours of Upper Division course work in a special or general area of study the following upper level requirements must be completed prior to the end of Education 404.

Education 479-4 Designs for Learning - Physical Education

Education 459-4 Instructional Activities in Physical Education *

The remaining six to eight hours may be selected from the following recommended courses. These courses may be completed prior to entering the Professional Development Program or during the Education 404 period. Other courses not listed below and offered by any department outside the Faculty of Education must be approved by the supervisor of the Elementary School Physical Education Minor Program if credit toward the Minor is desired.

Kinesiology 303-3 Human Growth and Physical Development **

Kinesiology 320-3 Cultural Aspects of Human Movement **

Kinesiology 344-3 Theory of Creative Movement **

Psychology 302-3 Learning (formerly Psychology 220)

Psychology 351-3 Child Psychology (formerly Psychology 350-3)

Education: Upper Division courses with permission of the Co-ordinator of the Elementary School Physical Education Minor Program.

7. Recommended Courses:

* Special Note: Prior to the reorganization of the Faculty of Education, Education 440-4 and 441-4 were required Physical Education courses for this Minor. I would therefore request that a new course be added to replace the course number lost through the reorganization and course renumbering. See attached course description.

8. New Courses: See previous "Special Note."

9. Field Work: See comments under #6 "Required Courses."

10. Timetable or Sequence of Course Offering (in terms of Trimester Operation)

Standard Format for each year

Fall - Education 401 - selection of students for Minor Program
- Education 402 - seminars and workshops

 Course numbers in Kinesiology may change if the revised program is approved by Senate.

10. Cont'd.
