Subject PREREQUISITES FOR COMPUTING SCIENCE
COURSES

From Dr. T.D. Sterling, Director

Computing Science Program

Date October 23, 1974

The Computing Science Program feels that the following changes in prerequisites are necessary:-

DELETE CMPT 100-3 AS PREREQUISITE, BUT LEAVE CMPT 103-3 IN:-

CMPT 118-3, CMPT 121-1, CMPT 131-1, CMPT 132-1, CMPT 141-1,
CMPT 142-1, CMPT 151-1, CMPT 152-1, CMPT 161-1,
CMPT 162-1, CMPT 163-1, CMPT 164-1, CMPT 165-1, CMPT 171-1,
CMPT 172-1, CMPT 181-1, CMPT 182-1, CMPT 183-1, CMPT 184-1,
CMPT 185-1, CMPT 186-1, CMPT 240-3, CMPT 250-3, CMPT 280-3 (delete 100-3 only)

CMPT 260-3

RATIONALE:- The original intent was to require these courses as prerequisite for students taking honors, major or minor in Computing Science. Since both CMPT 100-3 and 103-3 are required courses for honors, major and minor programs such students will not be affected by dropping the prerequisites. The prerequisites being dropped are not strictly necessary in order to understand the material. By dropping them it becomes easier for students not taking a degree program in Computing Science to take the courses as electives.

CHANGE IN PREREQUISITE:-

CMPT 360-3 - change FROM CMPT 200-4 or 201-4, a background in Statistics and a Science are required, TO CMPT 103-3, a background in Statistics and in research methods required.

RATIONALE:- CMPT 200 or 201 is being changed to CMPT 103-3 because all that is really required is a knowledge of programming. The real intent of the Science requirement was that the students be familiar with research methods, however, students tend to interpret the word "Science" as requiring a hard science, such as Chemistry or Physics.

SECRETARY'S NOTE: CMPT 103-3 was passed by Senate at its meeting of May 6, 1974 (Paper S.74-49) for first offering in Fall semester 74-3. Senate Paper S.74-49 also stated that CMPT 102-2 was to be dropped. The intent was that CMPT 103-3 would replace CMPT 102-2 for all purposes within the Department.
