To..... SENATE

From..... J. BLANEY

Subject..... NOTICE OF MOTION - PROCEDURES
FOR CURRICULUM REVISIONS

Date..... DECEMBER 22, 1975

MOTION: "That the chairman of Senate either ask an existing committee, or strike a special ad hoc committee, to consider ways in which matters related to curricular revisions may be more effectively handled by Senate, standing committees, and the Faculties."

MEMORANDUM

To.....	Harry Evans	From.....	Jack Blaney
	Secretary of Senate		Dean of Continuing Studies
Subject.....	Notice of Motion	Date.....	December 10, 1975
	Procedures for Curricular Revisions

If someone has not already done so (and I understand from our conversation in Senate that someone has), I'd like to place at the next meeting of Senate a notice of motion to the effect that:

"The Chairman of Senate either ask an existing Committee, or strike a special ad hoc committee, to consider ways in which matters related to curricular revisions may be more effectively handled by Senate, standing committees, and the Faculties."

Implicit in this motion is the belief that many changes in curriculum could at least as well be handled by an appropriate committee of Senate, thereby releasing Senate time for more substantive matters and reducing the amount of paper required for Senate business.

Should you wish a more detailed motion, or some kind of rationale, please let me know. Thanks.

Jack Blaney
