SUBJECT: REPORT ON COMMITTEE ACITIVITIES
TO SENATE, 1975-77

The last report of the Senate Undergraduate Admissions Board (S.75-124) was placed before Senate in September, 1975. That report dealt with the period between the establishment of the Committee in July, 1970, and August, 1975. The first two sections of the report dealt with the establishment, terms of reference and operating procedures of the Committee and with its membership. Some changes have occurred in the membership of the Committee; but there are no other developments to report in either of these categories. They are, therefore, omitted except for the attachment of a list of the current members of the Committee (Appendix I).

That report (S.75-124) also provided a summary of the actions taken under the terms of reference of the Board.

Our report (S.78-) includes a summary of actions and a statistical report on those areas which come under the terms of reference of the Committee. To supplement our summary of actions and first report, this statistical report deals with the period from the establishment of the Committee to the present.

The following information is appended to the report:--

- i) List of current SUAB members - APPENDIX I
- ii) Summary of Actions of SUAB - APPENDIX II
- iii) Summary of the SUAB End of Semester Review - APPENDIX III
- iv) Summary of New Student Admissions* - APPENDIX IV a,b,c,d,e,f

*Although the appended tables do not relate to actions by the Senate Undergraduate Admissions Board, they do reflect the trends in new student admissions, an area that is of major interest to the Board.

The statistics presented in Appendices III and IV reflect a number of trends in the areas of academic standing and new admissions. We have attempted to identify these trends and we have indicated in which areas the Board is currently reviewing policies that apply to the trends.

Appendix III reports on the number of undergraduate students placed in each of the conditional academic status categories following each semester. The categories of "warning", "probation" and "required to withdraw" have been increasing on an annual basis for the past four years. The reason for this increase is, in part, due to the increasing part-time enrolments and the fact that the continuance, withdrawal and readmission policy discriminates against the part-time student. The Board is presently studying this inconsistency and plans to recommend to Senate a new policy on continuance, withdrawal and readmission.

The Board is also reviewing two other areas that are related to student performance. These include a review of the current admission requirements for B.C. Secondary School graduates and a study on the performance of foreign students entering, whose primary language is not English.

Appendix IVa reports on the number of new undergraduate applications received and processed each semester. These figures have been increasing annually except for this past year (1977) in which we experienced a decline. The reasons for this are not fully understood. However, it would appear to be related to a possible decline in qualified secondary school applicants and the general economic situation wherein many students appear to be selecting career and trade programs at other institutions.

It should be noted that in Appendix III, Columns 1, 3 and 4, do not total 100%, as some students transfer their applications to a subsequent semester and some cancel their applications. Actual figures are not kept on these categories.

Appendices IV(i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) report all new undergraduates (full, part-time, including withdrawals) and reflect a consistent trend of new student admissions on the basis of academic background.

Appendix IVc reports all new undergraduates (full, and part-time, including withdrawals) enrolled by citizenship. There are no major shifts in the new foreign student admission with the exception of a gradual increase in the enrolment of students from Hong Kong.

Appendices IVd, e and f report all new undergraduate students (full, and part-time, including withdrawals). The trends in these categories are consistent with the overall trend for undergraduate admission.

APPENDIX II

SUMMARY OF ACTIONS OF SUAB - JULY 6, 1970, TO AUGUST 16, 1977

The initial meeting of the Senate Undergraduate Admissions Board was held on October 7, 1970. Since its inception, the Undergraduate Admissions Board has met on fifty-one (51) occasions up to, and including, its meeting on August 16, 1977.

During this period, the Board has dealt with seventy-seven (77) formal papers and twenty-one (21) meetings have been called specifically to review end-of-semester examination results. Forty-three (43) of the seventy-seven (77) formal papers which have been presented have gone forward to Senate for approval, whereas the remaining papers were either defeated, or treated as information to the Senate Undergraduate Admissions Board, the Senate Appeals Board, or the Director of Admissions.

A breakdown of the seventy-seven (77) papers presented to the Senate Undergraduate Admissions Board follows:--
