MEMORANDUM

To..... Dr. C. Griffiths, Chairman,
..... UGC, FISC.
Subject Curriculum changes - Women's Studies

From..... Mary Lynn McDougall, Co-ordinator,
..... Women's Studies Program.
Date..... 16 October 1980

At its meeting of 15 October, 1980 the Women's Studies Co-ordinating Committee recommended that calendar descriptions be changed for the following courses.

"that W.S. 201-3 Women in Canada 1600-1920 be changed from:

The course will investigate primarily the lives of women who did not achieve public fame. Primary data will be collected from the diaries, memoirs, letters and literary works of Canadian women.

This course examines the changing nature of female experience from the days of New France to the First World War through the lives of both famous and anonymous women. The diaries, memoirs, letters and literary works of Canadian women will be a major interest. "

and

"that W.S. 202-3 Women in Canada 1920 to the Present be changed from:

The course will focus on the unpaid work of women in the home in conjunction with their increasing entry into wage work throughout this period. The effect of this change on family structure, women's roles and education and on ideas of women's place will be examined, using memoirs and literary sources plus sociological, historical and economic material.

to:

This course examines the range of experience open to Canadian women in the twentieth century. The strengths and limitations of women's roles will be analyzed from a historical perspective, using demographic evidence, autobiographies, literature, government documents and monographs."
