RATIONALE:

This is a change in course number only. Students are currently advised to take the statistics course in lower levels even though it is numbered at the 300 division and this creates a great deal of confusion as to whether it should be counted at the upper or lower level. Offering this course at the lower division would alleviate this problem.

A further advantage would be that the course can be offered at the college level for transfer credit. Students will, therefore, be able to attend much smaller classes.
