

SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY

MEMORANDUM

To: Senate

From: Senate Committee on Agenda and Rules (as Committee on Committees)

Subject: Reorganization of SCSAB

Date: November 21, 1985

Action undertaken by the Senate Committee on Agenda and Rules, in its role as the Committee on Committees, gives rise to the following motion:

MOTION:

"That Senate approve the reorganization of the Senate Committee on Scholarships, Awards and Bursaries as set out in Senate Paper S.85-66, including the formation of a Policy Committee, and Undergraduate and Graduate Adjudication Committees with memberships and responsibilities as defined."

MEMORANDUM

To: Dr. W. G. Saywell, Chairman,
Senate

From: H. Weinberg, Chairman,
Senate Committee on Scholarships
Awards and Bursaries (SCSAB)

Subject: Reorganization of SCSAB

Date: November 21, 1985

I would appreciate it if you would place before Senate the following proposals for consideration at the next meeting of Senate.

The Senate is charged under the Universities Act with the authority to establish policies and procedure for the administration and adjudication of all scholarships, awards and bursaries. Included in this mandate are those scholarships, awards and bursaries funded through the University operating budget and also those funded by external sources if those external scholarships, awards and bursaries are administered by the University.

Two responsibilities of the committee can be distinguished, although they interact: the responsibility for adjudication of scholarships and awards, and the responsibility for the ongoing development of policy. During the past twenty years the complexity of the programme of SCSAB has grown in proportion to the growth of the university and its increasing endowments. One consequence of this is that SCSAB has found it very difficult to devote the amount of time required to develop those policies which are necessary to cope with the evolution of internally and externally funded programmes.

Responsibility for policy is vested in SCSAB. However, administration of policy is through the Office of Financial Aid. The Director of that office is secretary to SCSAB and reports to the Associate Vice-President Academic. The Office of the Dean of Graduate Studies however, has immediate access to all graduate student records and therefore the administration of graduate awards and scholarships has historically come to be the responsibility of the Dean of Graduate Studies. At the same time, the Director of Financial Aid retains responsibility for administering the entire SCSAB budget and, jointly with SCSAB, has the responsibility for making recommendations concerning annual budget proposals.

One important impact of SCSAB policy is on the decision of students to attend Simon Fraser. The nature of the scholarships, their amounts and duration all enter into how excellent students evaluate Simon Fraser in respect to other universities they could also attend. Overall policy concerning the factors which influence student enrolments is also part of the mandate of the Associate V.P. Academic.

In recent discussions with the Associate V.P. Academic and the Dean of Graduate Studies the concept of a reorganization of SCSAB evolved. The reorganization is intended to establish three committees. One committee would be devoted to the consideration and development of policy. The other committees would have the responsibility for adjudicating scholarships and awards, one committee for graduate and one for undergraduate programmes. The suggested structure of the committees is detailed in the attached materials. The suggested structure would bring the Associate V.P. and the Dean of Graduate Studies more directly into the determination of SCSAB policy and also into the adjudication of scholarships and awards. The structure would also allow SCSAB to interact more closely with other efforts in the University like those intended to increase enrolments from university, college and high school students.

The initial membership of the committees would comprise all of those individuals now elected to SCSAB and would therefore not require new Senate and Faculty elections.

The reorganization of SCSAB was discussed by SCSAB and that committee unanimously approved the reorganization.
