FPA. 330-3 - Prerequisite change

From: FPA. 230. Students with credit for FPA. 231 may not take FPA. 330 for further credit.

To: FPA. 230. Laboratory fee required. Students with credit for 231 may not take FPA. 330 for further credit.

Rationale: FPA. 231, for which this course is a replacement, always had a lab fee requirement. During the curriculum change process in 1985, however, the inclusion of a specific reference to lab fees was overlooked: this prerequisite change will rectify that error.

Subject Curriculum changes, 1986/87.....

From... Greg Snider, Chair, Centre for the...
..... Arts Undergraduate Curriculum Committee
Date... 22 September 1986.....

Please bring forward for consideration by the Faculty of Arts Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, the following changes:

DANCE

FPA. 122-4 - Prerequisite

From: Written permission of the department is required in advance of registration.

To: Written permission of the department, as a result of an audition, is required in advance of registration. Contact Department.

Rationale: This change is intended to clarify for students the means by which permission to register is obtained, thereby decreasing the amount of confusion for new students and reducing the likelihood of new students registering in FPA. 122 without an audition and then being withdrawn from the course.

FILM

FPA. 134-3 - prerequisite

From: Permission of the department through interview is required. Limited entry. Students who have completed FPA. 132 and 133, or 232, cannot take this course for further credit.

To: Permission of the department, through questionnaire/interview process, is required in advance of registration. Contact Department. Students who have completed FPA. 132 and 133, or 232, cannot take this course for further credit.

Rationale: See rationale for FPA. 122.

FPA. 230-3 - prerequisite

From: FPA. 134 and one of 136 or 137, and permission of the department. This is a limited entry course. Written permission of the department is required in advance of registration. Students should expect to pay a laboratory fee.

To: FPA. 134 and one of 136 or 137, and permission of the department in advance of registration. Laboratory fee required. Students who have taken FPA. 132 and/or 133 for credit may not take FPA. 230 for further credit.

Rationale: FPA. 230, as redesigned in 1985, is a significant duplication of FPA. 132 and 133, which were dropped from the Calendar. The balance of the changes to the prerequisite are mainly editorial.

MUSICFPA. 104-3 - prerequisite

From: This is a limited entry course. Written permission of the department is required in advance of registration.

To: Permission of the department, through interview, is required in advance of registration. Contact Department.

Rationale: See rationale for prerequisite change to FPA. 122.

FPA. 141-3 - prerequisite

From: FPA. 104 and written permission of the department. Students with credit for FPA. 105 may not take FPA. 141 for further credit.

To: FPA. 104 or permission of the department. Students with credit for FPA. 105 may not take FPA. 141 for further credit.

Rationale: Students who have completed FPA. 104 should be able to register in FPA. 141 without a further screening process. Only those students who do not have previous formal training in music fundamentals, or who must demonstrate an 'equivalent' to FPA. 104 will be required to obtain department permission.

FPA. 147-3 - prerequisite

From: no prerequisite

To: Permission of the department, through interview, is required in advance of registration. Contact Department.

Rationale: FPA. 147 has a very limited enrollment, due to the necessity of student access to available equipment. The Centre has historically screened students who wish to register in FPA. 147. This prerequisite change will formalize past practice.

THEATREFPA. 151-3 - prerequisite

From: FPA. 150 or permission of the department.

To: no prerequisite

Rationale: FPA. 151 is always offered in Fall semester. FPA. 150, due to budget cuts, is offered only once per year - invariably in Spring semester. The FPA. 150 prerequisite to FPA. 151 is being dropped to enable first year students to take FPA. 151 in Fall without having to seek special permission.

FPA. 152-3 - prerequisite

From: FPA. 151 or departmental permission.

To: FPA. 151 or departmental permission. Students who intend to pursue a Theatre concentration must take FPA. 150 concurrent with FPA. 152.

Rationale: FPA. 150 is no longer a prerequisite for FPA. 151. However, it is important that students who will be entering the theatre concentration be exposed early to the theoretical and historical aspects of theatre as well as to the practical. Establishing FPA. 150 as a corequisite to FPA. 152 will ensure that students begin to integrate the theoretical and the practical aspects of theatre before they begin the sequence of courses leading to a theatre concentration.

VISUAL ART

FPA. 160-3 - prerequisite

From: This is a limited entry course. Departmental permission in writing required prior to registration. A laboratory fee is required. Students with credit for FPA. 160 under its former title may not take this course for further credit.

To: Permission of the department, as a result of a portfolio interview, is required in advance of registration. Contact Department. A laboratory fee is required. Students with credit for FPA. 160 under its former title may not take this course for further credit.

Rationale: See rationale for FPA. 122 prerequisite change.

INTERDISCIPLINARY

FPA. 370-3 - prerequisite

From: FPA. 170 and written permission of the department.

To: FPA. 170.

Rationale: It is considered unnecessary to require students who have completed FPA. 170 to seek further permission to take FPA. 370. Only students who must demonstrate the 'equivalent' of FPA. 370 will be required to seek departmental permission in order to register in this course.

From: Greg Snider, Chair

Centre for the Arts

Undergraduate Curriculum Committee

Subject: Curriculum changes, 1986/87

Date: 23 September 1986

Please bring the following additional change forward for consideration by the Faculty of Arts Undergraduate Curriculum Committee:

FPA. 163-3 - prerequisite

From: Permission of the department.

To: Permission of the department, through interview, is required in advance of registration. A laboratory fee is required.

Rationale: This change will make explicit the means by which students must seek department permission to register in the course, thereby reducing confusion of new students and decreasing the likelihood that students will register in the course without having obtained permission. FPA. 163, like all first and second year visual art studio courses, uses a considerable volume of material and supplies in the course. By charging a lab fee and buying materials in bulk, rather than requiring each student to purchase their own materials, the cost to students for materials used in the course can be reduced.
