Date: July 5, 1989

Further to our recent meeting on the Tri Ed Special Summer Institutes and the B.G.S., the following was the decision taken by the Faculty of Education Undergraduate Programs Committee:

That the maximum total number of Tri-Ed. Summer Institute credits be 9 for the Post Baccalaureate Diploma and 9 for the B. Ed. Degree.

I trust this is useful.

Re: Special Summer Institute Credits
Restriction

Date: Nov. 20/89

The rationale for the motion to restrict to a maximum of 9 credits for courses taken through Tri-University offerings of Special Summer Institutes is as follows:

- 1) Teacher Qualification Service has expressed concern about the proliferation of such Institutes and has asked the universities to assure them (TQS) of the academic integrity of these Institutes.
2. It has come to our attention that some students completing B.G.S. degrees by courses taken on a transfer credit basis, through DISC, and by Special Summer Institutes have a 'smorgasbord' of courses forming no curricular coherence.
3. It is very difficult to exercise curricular control over courses offered through these Summer Institutes. Most of the courses are Special Topics courses mounted quickly in response to immediate Ministry and professional needs. Many also have an 'implementation' component, which is partially supervised by the profession. It is therefore virtually impossible satisfactorily to scrutinize and assess in advance the academic merit of these courses, though the evaluation of these courses after the fact reveals that teachers and other professionals rate them highly.
