RE: Petition for Nomination to the SGAAC (English Department)

Sensitivity to the desires of those that need help would be the quality I hope to bring to this committee. I have finished my undergraduate degree at Simon Fraser University and I am proud to be a member of its community. I have been an active participant in my classes as I feel it is important to speak up when my sense of fairness and curiosity are played upon. I am pleased that I have been given this chance to speak freely, here, and would be delighted to return this invaluable gift. I intend to be at Simon Fraser University for the next two years in order to finish my Masters degree.

I would like to sit on this committee in particular because of its centrality to the projects Graduate Students are embarked upon being the ongoing academic discussions within and across their fields. Discussion and dialogue, while more or less free and direct at Simon Fraser University, becomes more difficult when travel to research and conference becomes necessary. I would like to help remove these impediments to the discussions by being accepted to the Student Graduate Awards Adjudication Committee. I hope to be given this opportunity.

Thank you.

Delany, Sheila

Credentials: Wellesley College B.A., UC (Berkeley) M.A., Columbia U. Ph.D.

Eight books in medieval and other periods of European literature and culture, most recent title (Oxford U.P., 1998) winner of Canadian Society of Medievalists prize.

For International Student Exchange Committee

As a 30-year member of the SFU faculty, I value participation in university governance. My special interest in this committee relates to SFU's planned certificate program in Jewish Cultural Studies, which I have initiated and currently coordinate. This prospective program will have a faculty and student exchange component with Ben Gurion U (Beersheva, Israel), with which SFU has recently formalized a partnership. As an experienced teacher, scholar, traveller, and parent, I am well qualified to participate in the deliberations of this committee and wish to learn first-hand how our exchange process operates.

Francis, June

Personal Background

June Francis is an assistant professor in the faculty of Business Administration at Simon Fraser University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Washington in Seattle, her MBA from York University and her B.Sc. from the University of The West Indies. She came to academics from a career in marketing management. Her research focuses on Cross-cultural and International Marketing Issues. Her publications have appeared or are forthcoming in The Journal of International Business Studies, The Journal of International Marketing and The Journal of International Consumer Marketing. She has done Policy research on Canadian high-tech firms and this work received coverage in the Canadian Press. She has also been involved in International Developments Projects in China where her work appears in two book chapters in Mandarin and English (one forthcoming). She also documented her academic experience in a book chapter on academic women's careers. Marketing and international marketing are the focus of her teaching and she is involved in community and executive education.

Personal Statement of Interest in the International Student Exchange Committee

Much of my research and teaching interests focus on cross-cultural issues, specifically, on business interactions with people from different cultures. As an immigrant to Canada, I have experienced many of these issues first hand. I have been fortunate to have received each of my three degrees in three different countries (Jamaica, Canada and The United States). This experience has formed the basis for my belief that student exchanges can provide enriching experiences for both the exchange student and the host institution. I have been involved in a number of special student initiatives. At the University of Washington, I was commissioned to conduct research aimed at improving the participation of minority students in the faculty of business there. My recommendations directly impacted a program to improve the diversity of that student body. In addition, I served for one year as the program director for the Shad Valley Program (UBC) – a university based entrepreneurship program for gifted science students and on the advisory board of AIESEC - SFU (international student organization) for a number of years. In a parental capacity, I've been active at both the elementary and secondary school level in the parent advisory committees.

Pachkhede, Narendra

Commonwealth Fellow
Sociology and Anthropology

Statement of Interest

I have been a Ph.D. student on a Commonwealth Fellowship since Fall 1999 at SFU. The last one-year has been indeed a learning experience in the North American University System. Over the three semesters I have had a distinct privilege of active support from the student community in various academic activities that I have been involved with. Among them were the curation of the three-day South Asian Film Festival, teaching stint at UBC, one-day symposium on Visual Anthropology and founding the Group for Visual Anthropology at SFU.

Having experienced a good one-year, I wish to further my contribution to SFU during my stint as a Commonwealth Fellow. I have been in public life in various capacities for over a decade and bring with me wealth of experience and fresh ideas. Further, I strongly believe an international student will help in building a more comprehensive perspective to the Senate functioning.

In keeping with the objectives of the Senate and the goals for University, I firmly believe in the potential of SFU to be among the forefront destination of academic excellence and progressively modern seat of education.

By standing for the posts of Senate Graduate Awards Adjudication Committee (SGAAC) and Senate Appeals Board (regular-replacing Dan Preece), I wish to humbly participate and contribute to the larger university ^ building and development process.

If given a chance, I am sure to vindicate all your hopes. I solicit your kind support and request you to vote for my candidature. Thanks.

Simmons, Leeanna

Senate Appeals Board—Committee

Returning to university as a mature student represents, for me, the fulfillment of a long-awaited personal goal. Not only have I enjoyed the chance to attend SFU, but, as a somewhat older-than-average student, I have also found incidental benefit in drawing on life and previous career experience to augment my graduate studies. My interest in serving on the SAB comes out of my realization that this same life and career experience can offer a similar advantage to a committee, like the SAB, charged with the weighty, decision-making responsibilities it carries.

For twelve years, I worked in an administrative and adjudication capacity for a federal government department. My responsibilities entailed the application of legislative acts and their regulatory interpretations but, always, and most importantly, in the context of real human beings and their circumstances. I mention this because I think it attests to my ability to carry out a mandate while still recognizing the personal aspects of each situation—qualities and skills required by SAB members. I am a creative and enterprising individual who cares about and understands the sometimes-precarious interface between human and institutional needs. I sincerely look forward to serving on the SAB with administrative personnel, faculty, and fellow students.

Thank you.
