ENSC request for Calendar change:

Effective date: 2011-12 Calendar

a) Change the SFU calendar wording for: "Degree Requirements – Meng Program course work":

From: "MEng candidates complete ~~at least~~ 21 graduate course units. All students complete ENSC 820, specialize in an area of study, and complete required courses as follows.

✓ Students specializing in communications complete ENSC 805, ENSC 810; electronics specialization students complete one of ENSC 851, ENSC 852 or ENSC 853;"

FAS GPC proposal

To: "MEng candidates complete 21 graduate course units, in addition to the Project course.

✓ All students complete ENSC 820, specialize in an area of study, and complete required courses as follows. Students specializing in communications complete ENSC 805, ENSC 810; electronics specialization students complete one of ENSC 851, ENSC 852 or ENSC 853;"

Rationale: It was very unclear before whether the project course was part of the required 21 units or not, and we have had a problem with this.

b) Change in SFU calendar wording for: "Transfer from the Master's Program to the PhD Program":

✓ From: "Proceeding to a PhD program without completing a master's degree is discouraged. However, a student may be admitted after at least 12 months in the MASc program if all requirements have been completed with a 3.67 or better CGPA, outstanding potential for research has been shown, and ..."

To: "Proceeding to a PhD program without completing a master's degree is discouraged. However, a student may be admitted after at least 12 months in the MASc program if all non-thesis course requirements have been completed with a 3.67 or better CGPA, outstanding potential for research has been shown, and ..."

Rationale: It was not clear what was meant by "all requirements" in the current calendar - GPC committee feels this is clearer for students.
