Degree Program Dissolution Process

The Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences Undergraduate Curriculum Committee has voted in favour of eliminating the Minor in Gender Studies.

- 1. Impacted credential: Gender Studies Minor
- 2. Location of the program: Burnaby
- 3. Faculty(ies), Department(s), or School(s) offering the program: FASS, Department of Women's Studies
- 4. Anticipated final dissolution date: September 2011
- 5. Reasons for discontinuance and dissolution of the program: The main reason for the discontinuance of the GDST Minor is primarily a curricular issue. The GDST Minor was started at a time when Gender Studies and Women's Studies were considered to be two methodologically distinct fields, thus necessitating different streams of study. This is no longer the case as reflected by developments in the field in the last decade, which have also impacted the way these issues are taught in the Dept.'s curriculum. Following a recommendation made in the External Review of the Dept. in 2009, the Dept. of Women's Studies has integrated its separate programs under the name of Gender, Sexuality & Women's Studies. The formerly separated Women's Studies program and Gender Studies Minor Program will now be administered as one coherent program, offering one major and one minor in GSWS. The Gender Studies Minor program is discontinued in the process.
- 6. Plan for phasing-out of program:
 - a. Students and prospective students have been told about this change since the Dept.'s name change was initiated.
 - b. Instructors and staff were informed of this change when the Dept.'s name change was initiated. No jobs will be impacted.
 - c. No specific resources are assigned to the Gender Studies Minor so there is no need for re-allocation.
 - d. Other FASS departments were consulted at the FASSCC meeting on Nov. 18th, 2010. This change has no impact on other faculties.
 - e. There will be no impact on curriculum in cognate disciplines.
 - f. Timeline of activities: the chair of SCUS, the Associate VP Academic, received a memo from Dean Pro Tem John Craig on Jan. 10th, 2011, asking that admissions to the program be suspended. The GSWS advisor is no longer accepting GDST Minor declaration as of the Fall, 2010. We would like to close the program by the fall of 2011.
