Bachelor of General Studies

Internal Transfer from another program at SFU

Simon Fraser University students can apply to the Bachelor of General Studies (Education) program for approval at the start of each semester after completing 6 units in lower level education course work (EDUC 100 is recommended).

Admission is competitive and is based on CGPA. If one or more courses have been duplicated (repeated) the higher grade from all course attempts will be used in calculating the CGPA.

Rationale:

The BGS (EDUC) is a popular degree completion option. Since only a small portion of our FTE allotment is allocated to the BGS (EDUC) admission is competitive and based on CGPA.
