Calendar Entry Change Global Asia

Rationale for change:

We are simplifying the asterisk footnote structure to use only one single asterisk note to improve clarity.

To decrease the use of asterisks in this Calendar entry, please remove the asterisk beside the Lower Division Language units requirement and add parenthesis to the note instead.

We are adding the qualification/note (marked with a single asterisk *) to LANG 148 to include this course as one that requires the note.

We are adding the new PUNJ course designations as language options.

We are correcting categorization of GA 202 by adding it to the lower division region lists and adding the qualification/note (marked with a single asterisk *) to it.

We are adding the qualification/note (marked with a single asterisk *) to the ENGL 394 elective to reflect a change in that course's scope, initiated by English.

Effective term and year:

Summer 2021

Calendar Entry Change Labour Studies

Rationale for change:

The Labour Studies Program currently has only one 100-level foundational course (LBST 101: Introducing Labour Studies), which focuses on the evolution of labour, labour markets and unions in Canada. In implementing our Major, and fine-tuning our Program-level educational goals, we have noticed that Labour Studies students taking our upper-division classes often lack a foundation in concepts and understandings of equality, equity and inequality in the workplace, in labour markets, and in the division of labour. This course addresses that gap for our Major and Minors, while also offering a broad introduction to first and second year students and undecided Majors who are interested in equity and diversity issues and want to understand how they relate to the worlds of work and employment.

Calendar Entry Change Labour Studies

Rationale for change:

The Labour Studies Program currently has only one 100-level foundational course (LBST 101: Introducing Labour Studies), which focuses on the evolution of labour, labour markets and unions in Canada. In implementing our Major, and fine-tuning our Program-level educational goals, we have noticed that Labour Studies students taking our upper-division classes often lack a foundation in concepts and understandings of equality, equity and inequality in the workplace, in labour markets, and in the division of labour. This course addresses that gap for our Major and Minors, while also offering a broad introduction to first and second year students and undecided Majors who are interested in equity and diversity issues and want to understand how they relate to the worlds of work and employment.

Effective term and year:

Dr. Lara Campbell
Associate Dean, Undergraduate
Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

I am Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science and Director, French Cohort Program in Public and International Affairs.

The French Cohort Program Steering Committee voted unanimously on July 24, 2020 to approve the following motion:

"Given the exceptional circumstances related to the COVID-19 pandemic, it is resolved that students in the French Cohort Program in Public and International Affairs who were scheduled to spend one or two terms at one of SFU's partner institutions during the 2020-2021 Academic Calendar be exempted from the program requirement to spend at least one term of study at a francophone university; this resolution concerns specifically students from Cohort #15 as well as the students from Cohort #14 who had postponed their student exchange to the 2020-2021 Academic Calendar."

As the student exchange is an academic requirement of our program and is part of the official academic calendar, I hereby ask that you please place the above motion for approval on the agenda of the next FASSUCC meeting.

The Department of Political Science is the 'academic home' of the French Cohort Program. Dr. Sanjay Jeram is the Undergraduate Chair in Political Science and can present the memo during the next FASSUCC meeting.

Thank you,

Rémi Léger
Associate Professor, Department of Political Science
Director, French Cohort Program in Public and International Affairs

October 5th, 2020

Dear Who It May Concern:

The Undergraduate Committee of the Department of Political Science passed the following motion in its October 5th, 2020 meeting by a unanimous vote (5 in favour, 0 opposed, 0 abstentions):

Given the exceptional circumstances related to the COVID-19 pandemic, it is resolved that students in the French Cohort Program in Public and International Affairs that were scheduled to spend one or two terms at one of SFU's partner institutions during the 2020-2021 Academic Calendar be exempted from the program requirement to spend at least one term of studies at a francophone university; this resolution concerns specifically students from Cohort #15 as well as the students from Cohort #14 who had postponed their student exchange to the 2020-2021 Academic Calendar.

Sincerely,

Dr. Sanjay Jeram

Senior Lecturer & Chair of Undergraduate Studies
Political Science, SFU

The requirement for BUS 360W was implemented prior to the creation of BUS 217W. Given that Beedie School of Business students will have BUS 217W prior to entering 300-level courses and as well as the fact that BUS 360W is pre-requisite for all 400-level courses, it is no longer necessary to specifically require BUS 360W prior to admission to the Accounting Concentration.

Students must have a minimum grade of a C+ in ~~both of these courses~~ BUS 320 before they are admitted to the concentration and ~~these courses~~ BUS 320 may be repeated ~~a maximum of one time each~~ once for admission. Only students admitted to this concentration will be permitted to enroll in upper division (300- and 400-level) accounting courses required for this concentration (with the exception of BUS 320).

IAT 340 Sound Design has been selected as an addition to the Media Arts concentration, as sound design closely aligns with the learning objectives of other Media Arts courses, such as IAT 202 New Media Images, IAT 344 Moving images and IAT 443 Interactive Video.
