Research assistant will be responsible for:

- Analyzing and summarizing data, such as journal entry, survey and interview data;
- Assisting with data entry and evaluation; and
- Attending meetings with project leads/team.

What you bring:

- Excellent knowledge of and experience with qualitative data analysis;
- Demonstrated ability to select and implement meaningful analyses, including appropriate statistical treatment, and effectively communicate the work to a non-data-science audience;
- Academic-level research and French writing skills, as demonstrated by prior completion of similar projects;
- Excellent interpersonal skills, including strong French oral and written communication skills;
- Ability to work independently, productively, and creatively;
- Currently enrolled in a graduate program at SFU (M.A., MEd, PhD or equivalent combination of skills and experiences). Preference will be given to a graduate degree in or related language education; and
- Experience teaching in a French program in the BC school system (Kindergarten-Grade 12) would clearly be an asset.

Experience and skills that would be an asset:

- Experience with additional language learners

Rate of pay: $31 to $35/hr (incl. vacation and statutory holiday pay, no medical or dental benefits) - based on experience, qualifications and degree program (MA or PhD).
The contract will be 3 to 5 hours per week from October 2019 to December 2019 for a maximum of 50 hrs; schedule to be negotiated with successful applicant. Additional hours may be available.

To Apply: Applicants should submit: (1) a 1-page cover letter structured to address the qualifications, skills, and role responsibilities as listed above, and (2) a 1 - 2 page resumé with two references listed, (3) a writing sample (4 - 5 pages) of academic writing in French. These three items should be organized as one PDF attachment and addressed to Monica Tang, and emailed to monicat@sfu.ca. Note: Referees will only be contacted for short-listed applicants.

Application deadline: October 7, 2019. We appreciate all replies to this position posting, however, we will only contact short-listed applicants.
