This bibliography provides a list of journal articles written by economists on labor-managed firms, worker-owned firms, employee ownership, profit sharing, employee participation in management, and related topics during 2003-2018.

Some of these articles are mainly theoretical, some are mainly empirical, and some make normative arguments about public policy. I do not necessarily agree with the conclusions reached by the authors, and I don't guarantee that all of these articles involve high quality research. Some are very competently done. Others not so much.

In addition to the listed articles, you can use any chapter (except for the introduction or epilogue) in the book Shared Capitalism at Work: Employee Ownership, Profit and Gain Sharing, and Broad-Based Stock Options, edited by Douglas Kruse, Richard Freeman, and Joseph Blasi (the University of Chicago Press, 2010). In many chapters they use real data sets, run regressions, and investigate a range of interesting topics. I have placed this book on reserve.

You can also use a chapter from any book called Advances in the Economic Analysis of Participatory and Labor-Managed Firms as long as it was published in 2003 or later. This is a series of books edited by various people. Volume 7 was published in 2003. As far as I know, the most recent is volume 18, published in 2018.

Faleyé, Olubunmi; Vikas Mehrotra; and Randall Morck, 2006, When labor has a voice in corporate governance, Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis 41(3), September, 489-510.

Helfen, Markus and Elke S. Schuessler, 2009, Uncovering divergence: Management attitudes towards HRM practices and works council presence in German SMEs, Economic and Industrial Democracy 30(2), May, 207-40.

Jirjahn, Uwe and Stephen C. Smith, 2006, What factors lead management to support or oppose employee participation -- with or without works councils? Hypotheses and evidence from Germany, Industrial Relations 45(4), October, 650-80.

Jones, Derek C., 2007, The productive efficiency of Italian producer cooperatives: Evidence from conventional and cooperative firms, in Sonja Novkovic and Vania Sena (eds.), *Advances in the Economic Analysis of Participatory and Labor-

