Miscellaneous:

You might have a quick look at the math department's "survival guide" for second to fourth year math courses. A few people in Math 232 mentioned an interest in math majors or minors on their data sheets, this information should be especially worthwhile for them:

The guide for first year math courses (worth a look if you haven't taken them recently), the math skills presentation from Monday, and old exams are linked from the following useful page provided Randall Pyke:
