Marking rubric for Math 402W final project

Group members:

Student:

A. Content
Problem introduction and motivation are discussed thoroughly, and in an interesting manner. (5%)
Main goals of the project are stated clearly, including identifying relevant stakeholders and discussing possible impacts on them. (5%)
There is a thorough discussion of additional aspects not treated by the problem, including well-argued reasons why these aspects are ignored. (5%) Mathematical model is presented thoroughly, and includes clear definition of variables, and sufficient discussion of constraints and objectives. (10%)
The modelling and solution techniques proposed are neither trivial, nor intractable, and are Operations Research techniques. (5%)
Results and interpretation of the results are complete and scientifically accurate.
(10%)
The solution proposed makes sense. The report discusses how well the solutions will satisfy the stakeholders, and makes worthwhile recommendations for improvements and further work. (10%)

Live presentation is well prepared, accurate, and professionally delivered. Questions are answered appropriately. (5%)
tions are answered appropriately. (576)
Overheads are clear, well-formatted, and have few errors. (5%)
The presentation highlights critical aspects of the report, and is suitable for the audience. (5%)

C. Quality of Written Report

Writing style is appropriate for a scientific report. (5%)
Ideas are presented clearly and logically. (5%)
radus are presented erearly and regreatly. (576)
The paper is well formatted, and contains few grammatical, spelling and punctuation errors. (5%)

D. Individual Participation

Individual participation and contribution. (20%)

Total grade:

E. General comments (if any)